120" Electric Projector Screen TV with Wireless Remote

Another fantastic product from RANDY AND TRAVIS MACHINERY - this 120" Electric Projector Screen TV with Wireless Remote brings all the excitement of the cinema experience to your home entertainment viewing. A smart alternative to ordinary television screens, the projector screen is perfect for film and video watching, and it's also ideal for classroom and conference room presentations. Use the wall-mounted control—or the included wireless remote control for maximum convenience—and at the touch of a button the screen slides out of its compact, stylish casing. When not in use, the screen slides back just as easily.

Premium construction begins with a professional-grade, precision-matte fabric for superior image reproduction, regardless of viewing angle. A bright white gain for a bright, clear picture, along with a black edge to diminish unwanted visual noise. The result is "window-like" crystal clarity and exceptional detail that you will have to see to believe. The screen is designed for both the classic 4:3 aspect ratio as well as the 16:9 high-definition (widescreen) aspect ratio.

Pride of craftsmanship extends to a solidly-constructed, weighted frame, which assures the image stays perfectly flat. And the electronic motor features a smooth, whisper-quiet operation.

Enjoy razor-sharp details and vivid colors, and make your images come alive like never before, with the 120" Electric Projector Screen TV with Wireless Remote.
