Squat Stands Pair

A gym-quality workout at home is within your reach with the Squat Stands Pair. Two high-grade steel stands give you the solid foundation you need for squat reps. No machine here; just a pure muscle-building workout using the free weights form advantage.

Both stands are constructed with extra-wide feet and top-quality steel which is welded in an upright position for maximum strength and stability. Wheels on the side of the base make transportation a simple tilt-and-move operation. Height is completely customizable with numerous levels for both the safeties and the quick-change bar holders. The holders can accommodate barbells of most any size, including Standard and Olympic. These stands are the ultimate in customization, durability, safety and performance.

Get a hardcore workout in the comfort of your own home. It starts with the Squat Stands Pair.
