

Fitness Agility Grid System

RRP: $119.95

For agility, you need power, speed and coordination. To work out for power, speed and coordination you need a fitness agility grid system. This is the system preferred by the professionals in the industry. Why? The quality of the materials is commercial standard. This means the fitness agility grid system has optimal impact resistance and durability. The linking clips allow for multiple layouts. For even more configurations, the clips can link to additional fitness agility grid systems.

Each fitness agility grid system comes with six rings to get you started. The flat pack design means they are easy to store and transport. The attractive design helps with presentation for professionals and motivation for enthusiasts. Looking good is part of feeling good!

Features:

Durable, impact-resistant material.

Flat pack design

Versatile linking clips

Six rings per set

