RRP: $39.95

Whether you're a commercial establishment hanging merchandise for display or a homeowner who wants an efficient yet decorative wall storage solution, these heavy-duty rare-earth magnetic hooks from Randy & Travis Machinery are the perfect solution. Holding a maximum of 10kg, these attractive hooks can handle a variety of items.

The premium neodymium magnet has three layers of corrosion-resistant nickel plating, making it a great choice for outdoor as well as indoor display. Relatively maintenance-free, these hooks will find plenty of uses in both the home and workplace.

Their amazing strength comes from their rare-earth magnet construction. With their silver-and-white colour, these hooks blend into the background. A smooth bottom prevents scratches while its rust-resistant nickel plating makes it a great choice for even moist areas such as bathrooms and kitchens.

Sturdy and durable, these steel-and neodymium hooks will hold up even under the rugged atmosphere of a commercial workshop or garage. Their magnetic properties last forever, so you can get many years of use from these handy hooks.

Use them to hang items on iron, nickel, steel, and other ferromagnetic surfaces. The magnet's steel construction maximises its magnetic power by saturating its magnetic flux.
