

Office Chair Gaming Computer Chairs Mesh Back Foam Seat - White

RRP: $374.95

Whether working from home or office, comfort is a must. With this ergonomically designed office chair from Randy & Travis Machinery, you're in for a treat – no matter how long your workdays. Covered in breathable, super-soft mesh, you'll stay cool and comfortable even on the hottest days. No wire mesh marks on your skin – just incredible comfort. With its full-length backrest, ergonomically curved lumbar support, and contoured neck support and headrest, you can sit for hours without any discomfort from pressure points. It swivels a full 360 degrees, so you can turn to reach whatever you need.

Its heavy-duty base ensures years of service, while its quiet-rolling casters won't distract the others in your office. In fact, it's so comfortable that you'll probably want another for your home office or gaming room. Furnish your employees with these chairs, and you'll no doubt see productivity rise, thanks to a comfortable place to do their work. Perfect for yourself or for a gift, this is a chair that will make you want to get more done every day of the year! Order yours today.
