RRP: $64.95

Australians are now more aware of the need for better hygiene both at home and out in public. With this automatic liquid soap and hand sanitiser dispenser by Randy & Travis Machinery, you can assure yourself that you're doing your best to keep your family, employees, and customers safe from a variety of illnesses. Its sleek, modern lines look equally good in both home and commercial applications, while its neutral white colour pairs well with almost any colour scheme. It accommodates both alcohol-based hand sanitiser and hand soap, so you can choose which cleaner is the best choice for your needs. Or, buy two dispensers and offer people a choice.

With its infrared smart sensor, this motion-activated dispenser can automatically 'sense' when your hands are ready to wash, allowing you to clean up completely touch-free. It dispenses exactly one millilitre of liquid, avoiding waste and a soapy mess on your benchtops. It's easy to install, easy to use, and has a LED indicator light, making it ideal for night use as well. Its 700-millilitre capacity ensures you won't need to refill as often as smaller dispensers. Use it in your bathroom and kitchen at home, and in a wealth of settings at work, including schools, universities, airports, restaurants, offices, doctors' and dentists' practices, and, of course, hospitals. It's even lockable, in case hand sanitiser and antibacterial hand soap become valuable commodities again. Protect your home and workplace from transmittable diseases.
