

Reading Pillow Back Rest Lumbar Support Arm Seat Cushion Lounger

RRP: $79.95

Do you ever feel your back getting strained while watching TV or reading your favourite book? Well, fret no more! This arm seat cushion lounger from Randy and Travis Machinery is specially manufactured to provide you with the ultimate back support. This ergonomic design is curated to calm down your back and neck muscles so that you can enjoy your movie or reading time to your heart's content.

Since the pillow is vacuum-packed, you can use it to sit comfortably either on your chair or sofa. Whether you're working full-time from home, planning to read a book, or watching a movie, all you need to do is grab this reading cushion and recline! Once you get used to the reclining position with this pillow, you'll forget about the hassle of going through back and neck pain again.

Moreover, Randy and Travis Machinery made sure to facilitate washing this arm seat lounger by providing a removable zip-off softcover. All you need to do is remove the cover and hop it into your washing machine and VOILA! - your reading cushion will be spic and span in a jiffy!
