

4 Pack Marine Bungee Dock Line Boat Mooring Rope Anchor Cord Stretch

RRP: $89.95

As any boat owner knows, one of the biggest struggles when docking a boat is the dangerous tugging caused by non-bungee dock lines. This is understandably concerning – no one wants to worry that the boat could end up far from shore when left unattended! Whether you own a boat, kayak or a jet ski, this issue is brilliantly solved by this marine bungee dock line from Randy & Travis Machinery.

Features:

Made from a durable rope material, with a bungee cord integrated inside to act as a snubber, this mooring rope can be easily attached to any boat, or indeed any other piece of equipment that needs to be tied to a dock. The user will be able to attach their boat to the dock quickly and with ease, thanks to easily adaptable loop and slider attachments. The rope works especially well when used in coordination with an effective anchor, to ensure complete security for your boat.

Specifications:

This pack includes four, equal-length ropes to help with a collection of different boats or to ensure you always have a backup. The bungee cord ropes measure 4ft, or 123 cm in length, but are able to stretch to 5.5 ft, ensuring it is able to adapt to any challenges from difficult weather conditions. To ensure there is no danger of chafing, there are also 2 X EVA floats integrated into the rope where it is tied into the boat, against the loop and slider.
